

FIGHTING FIERCELY, ARMIES OF RUSSIA ARE FALLING BACK

London, August 1.—The anniversary of war's outbreak passed without the German's occupying Warsaw, said to be part of their program. However, news of this climax to the Austro-German main offensive in the east is expected hourly, for what little information is allowed to leak through, declares the Russians for several days have been withdrawing to the Brest line, leaving small forces to fight rear guard actions so that the main armies may make good their retreat.

Counter Attacks by the Russians.

These rear guard actions have developed into fairly large battles, as the Russians, whose steadiness has been phenomenal in face of defeat, are offering stubborn resistance and delivering powerful counter attacks. They have prevented Field Marshal von Hindenburg from throwing more of his troops across the Narva, repulsed German attacks northwest of Warsaw, and driven back to the river some of the invading troops who crossed the Vistula south of Warsaw.

In the southeast Field Marshal von Mackensen continues his victorious advance. He has swept aside the resistance of the Russians and forced them to retreat along both banks of the Bug. The Germans already have passed Chelm in pursuit. Thus on this front the retirement of the Warsaw armies is seriously threatened.

Russians Stop German Advance.

During the month of July Berlin says the Germans captured more than 25,000 Russians between the Pilia river and the Baltic sea.

The Russians, according to Petrograd, have stopped General von Buelow's advance in Kovno province, toward the Vilva-Petrograd railway. If Grand Duke Nicholas is to hold the Brest line after his retirement from Warsaw it is necessary that General von

Fats And Leans Will Clash at Baker Field On Tuesday Afternoon

Yes, that game between the Fats and Leans is going to take place at Baker Field tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The respective line-ups for this game could not be obtained today, it being ascertained that some of the prospective players are bashful and objected strenuously to Sam Eiland giving out their names. Sam wouldn't do it, so there you are. However, he showed the writer the list, and well, there are certainly some surprises listed. If they just don't lose their nerve before Tuesday.

However, the names of the managers are available. Ray Jones has been "signed up" to coach the Leans, while Clem Ezell will pilot the Fats.

It has been suggested that the game be held in the local context of the town from Head-

WORK STARTS ON POOL TODAY

Many Dothan People Seen at Kelly Springs Sunday—Bath Houses Will Be Completed Soon.

Work on the concrete wall to be erected around the bathing pool at Kelly Springs, six miles northwest of Dothan, will be started today. The pool, it is understood, will be eighty feet square, having a greatly increased capacity.

The bath houses were not completed Sunday, but will no doubt be finished and ready for use next Sunday. As it is now bathers are greatly inconvenienced by having to go to the woods to disrobe. This inconvenience will be overcome by the completion of the bath houses.

Hundreds of Dothan people were at Kelly Springs Sunday, but bathing was not as desirable as usual, owing to a rain Sunday morning, which caused the water in the pool to become muddy.

W. A. Skipper of near Webb, was arrested today by Sheriff John A. May on a charge of violating the prohibition laws.

Battleship Nebraska Collides With Bark

Boston, August 1.—The battleship Nebraska, rounding Cape Cod in a thick fog tonight, was in collision with a bark believed to be the Mabel I. Meyers of Belfast, Me. Wireless advices say the Nebraska was not seriously damaged. The bark, however, was believed to have been sunk. The battleship reported she had taken off the crew and was bringing them here. The Nebraska was expected to arrive tomorrow morning.

The radio message gave the name of the bark as the Mabel I. Meallie, by maritime records contain no such name and the opinion was expressed that the Mabel I. Meyers was meant.

The Nebraska had completed a series of maneuvers off Rockport, R. I., and was bound for Newport, R. I., to join the other vessels of the Atlantic fleet in more extensive maneuvers about to begin there.

SIX BIG CRUISER DESTROYERS ARE TO BE BUILT NOW

Washington, August 1.—Plans for six big cruiser destroyers, authorized by the last congress have been approved. They will be the first vessels whose design has been influenced by the European war. Naval information from abroad was scrutinized closely by instructors before the plans were drawn, says a department statement.

The vessels will have a maximum sustained sea speed of thirty knots; they will displace 10,125 tons, measure 310 feet over all, have a width of 30 feet seven inches and a mean draft of eight feet.

Each destroyer will carry four triple torpedo tubes, a main battery of four four-inch guns and two one-pounder anti-aircraft guns. Bids for construction will be opened October 6.

A CORRECTION.

In Sol Lurie's advertisement of Saturday, the printer made him say "$5,000 Oxford's for $4.50," when it should have been $5.00 Oxfords for $4.50. He sells some good shoes, but has none in stock yet for $5.00.

John Moseley Makes Good With Tomato Crop in Coffee Co.

Here is a story that will cause Bill Ballweil to weep:

Over in Coffee county, six miles from Brookton, lives a farmer. His name is John Moseley, and he is kin to Glenn, of Dothan. John Moseley has one-fourth of an acre of land planted in tomatoes. He has already obtained enough tomatoes off this plot of land to fill 1,500 cans, and there is probably enough unpicked tomatoes to fill 500 cans. For these tomatoes Moseley receives 75 cents per dozen cans.

Figure it yourself and you will find that Moseley receives about $124.50 for tomatoes grown on one quarter of an acre.

Ask any farmer how much money he can make in cotton off quarter of an acre, and then compare with what Moseley has and is accomplishing in the tomato line?

Mr. Moseley has had a bad year with his little tomato crop, but despite such hindrances he will make money just the same. And besides his own crop, he sells tomatoes for his neighbors, and takes his pay in tomatoes. Another year he contemplates installing machinery for the canning of peaches and other fruits and vegetables, aside from tomatoes.

CALF CAUSE OF NEIGHBORS ROW

John Forehand, and his son, Carlton Forehand, charged with using abusive, profane or obscene language in the presence of females were discharged when arraigned before County Judge A. C. Crawford today.

Charges were preferred at the instigation of Bescham Spooner, it is said, it being alleged that the Forehands, father and son, cursed in the presence of Mrs. Spooner and other ladies. As to this allegation, contradictory testimony was introduced.

The wrangle, it seems, came about in a dispute over a calf belonging to Bescham Spooner. The calf was taken up and locked in by Carlton Forehand. The Spooners resented this, and taking an axe knocked off some of the planks and liberated the calf. One of the Forehands had a warrant issued for Spooner. The Spooners charged John and Carlton Forehand with using profane language in the presence of women.

Judge Crawford, after having heard testimony on both sides, some of which was conflicting, told the Forehands they could go.

More Guns Found In Burglary Probe

More guns and revolvers, said to have been stolen from the Porter Hardware Company in November and sold to various parties were recovered by Sheriff May and deputies Sunday and Monday, the list continuing to grow.

Here's the latest inventory announced by the Sheriff:

One double-barrelled hammerless shot gun from Lucy Conrad, of Cowarts; one breech-loading hammerless shot gun and one .32 Smith & Wesson revolver from C. Conrad, near Webb; one .32 Special Smith & Wesson revolver from David Carmichael; one .32-20 Colts pistol, one .38 Colts Special, one .22 Smith & Wesson, one .41 Derringer, from Lizzie Wilson. The officers have also located one .32 Savage Automatic and one repeating shotgun through Calvin Cherry.

FRENCH MARINES LANDED IN HAITI TO GUARD LEGATION

CARRANZA TO RELIEVE MEXICO CITY FAMINE

Washington, August 1.—Announcement of the re-occupation of Mexico City by General Carranza's army was followed today by a statement from General Carranza's headquarters at Vera Cruz that immediate efforts would be made to send foodstuffs to the starving population. Heavily guarded trains, it was asserted, were being prepared to leave Vera Cruz with provisions to supplement food being taken into the city by the army of occupation.

Washington officials hoped General Gonzalez had left the line so well patrolled that the trains would get through with slight delay. They said the United States was determined to relieve the famine in Mexico City if Carranza's forces could not do it.

Information of Carranza's plans came to his Washington agency in a message from Jesus Acuna, Carranza foreign minister who announced also that the railroad between Queretaro and Aguas Calientes, connecting Gonzalez with General Obregon's forces, would be reopened.

Reports reaching here say that Gonzalez advance guard took possession of Mexico City without resistance and that General Gonzalez himself will arrive there tomorrow. Assurances have been given to the Washington authorities that order will be maintained and normal conditions restored as rapidly as possible.

Since the announce that General Gonzalez drove Villa's flying column, under General Fierro, from Pachuca, little has been heard of this southern division of Villa's army.

Villa's agency issued a statement tonight declaring that the flying column was operating in "the states of Hidalgo, Vera Cruz, Puebla and Mexico." In this case it may be able to menace the railroad to Vera Cruz.

The agency denied claims of a defeat for General Villa in the vicinity of Torreon. Obregon's forces have not advanced, the statement said.

The Carranza agency issued a summary of its advices tonight, saying that reports had Torreon being evacuated by the Villa forces, who, they declared, were retreating to Chihuahua.

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Jones of Birmingham, Ala., desire to express their heartfelt thanks to their many friends and acquaintances in Dothan and Haleburg, Ala., for their many evidences of love and affection to us during our recent bereavement in the death of our little daughter, Margaret Lee, as well as for the many beautiful floral designs. May God's blessings be upon you and may His mercies be yours.

Washington, August 1.—French marines have been landed at Port Au Prince, Haiti, where a revolution that overthrew the government last week necessitated the landing of an expeditionary force from the United States cruiser Washington to restore order. The landing of the French was with the consent of the United States. It was stated tonight, a detachment from the cruiser Descartes having been sent to guard the French legation from which President Guillaume was taken by a mob and assassinated.

The French minister at Port Au Prince expressed an urgent desire that his legation be guarded by French sailors inasmuch as the Descartes had arrived. He thought also a French guard would lighten the burden on Admiral Caperton's 400 men.

Port Au Prince was reported quiet today. The battleship Conqueuil with 500 marines, is en route to the island republic and will be followed by the hospital ship Molace and the navy transport Hancock. Other reinforcements may be sent if there are any more attacks on the city by revolutionists who killed two American bluejackets.

The expeditionary force is expected to remain in Haiti until lasting peace is restored.

V.—E. P. Ripley

On Relations of Railroads and People

The industrial leaders of this nation are talking to the public free to face through the columns of this paper. The time was when if a corporation had anything to say to the people they sent a hired hand, whispered it through a lawyer or employed a lobbyist to explain it to the legislature, but the men who know and the men who do are now talking over the fence to the man who plows.

When the leading business men of this nation get "back to the soil" with their problems, strife and discussion will disappear, for when men look into each other's faces and smile there is a better day coming.

Mr. E. P. Ripley, president of the Santa Fe Railroad, when asked to give his views in reference to relations existing between the railroad and the public said in part:

"Frequently we hear statements to the effect that these relations are improving, that the era of railroad bailing has passed and that public sentiment now favors treating the railroads fairly. As yet this change in public sentiment, if any such there be, is not effective in results.

It is true that in the legislatures of the southwestern states during the past winter there were fewer unreasonable and unreasonable laws passed than usual, but a consideration of the hostile bills introduced shows that there is still reason for much disquiet even though they were defeated by more or less of a majority.

Moreover, the idea that the railroads have been in the forefront does not seem to prevail in the offices of the State Railroad Commissions which seem to cherish a notion that their business is not to act as an arbitrator between the railroads and the people, but which proceed on the theory that the railroads are able to take care of themselves and that their duty is to act as attorneys for the people even though in so doing they deny justice to the railroads. It requires no argument to demonstrate that the railroads are entitled to justice equally with other citizens and taxpayers. That they have not received it and are not receiving it is perfectly susceptible of proof. That they have practically no recourse in the courts has also been determined.

The situation therefore is that the people, through their representatives, must elect whether the services of the railroads shall be adequately compensated or not; and it requires no fortune teller or soothsayer to predict that in the long run the service will take the class that is paid for and no better.

The natural competition between the railroads and the natural desire to perform first-class service has heretofore resulted in giving the public much more than it was willing to pay for. Continuation of this will be impossible and no laws, however drastic, can long accomplish the impossible."

VII.—Hon. Elihu Root

On Woman's Sphere

The question of Woman Suffrage is an issue before the American people. Twelve states have adopted it, four more states vote upon it this fall and it is strongly urged that it become a platform demand of the national political parties. It is therefore the privilege and the duty of every voter to study carefully this subject. Hon. Elihu Root, in discussing this question before the Constitutional Convention of New York, recently said in part:

"I am opposed to the granting of suffrage to women, because I believe that it would be a loss to women, to all women and to every woman; and because I believe it would be an injury to the State, and to every man and every woman in the State. It would be useless to argue this if the right of suffrage were a natural right. If it were a natural right, then women should have it though the heavens fall. But if there be any one thing settled in the long discussion of this subject, it is that suffrage is not a natural right, but is simply a means of government, and the sole question to be discussed is whether government by the suffrage of men and women will be better government than by the suffrage of men alone.

Into my judgment, sir, there enters no element of the inferiority of woman. It is not that woman is inferior to man, but it is that woman is different from man; that in the distribution of powers, of capacities, of qualities, our Maker has created man adapted to the performance of certain functions in the economy of nature and society, and woman adapted to the performance of other functions.

Woman rules today by the sweet and noble influences of her character. Put woman into the arena of conflict and she abandons these great weapons which control the world, and she takes into her hands, feeble and nerveless for strife, weapons with which she is unfamiliar and which she is unable to wield. Woman in strife becomes hard, harsh, unlovable, repulsive; as far removed from that gentle creature to whom we all owe allegiance and to whom we confess submission, as the heaven is removed from the earth.

The whole science of government is the science of protecting life and liberty and the pursuit of happiness. In the divine distribution of powers, the duty and the right of protection rests with the male. It is no through-out nature. It is so with men, and I, for one, will never consent to part with the divine right of protecting my wife, my daughter, the woman whom I love, and the women whom I respect, exercising the birthright of man, and place that high duty in the weak and nerveless hands of those designed by God to be protected rather than to engage in the stern warfare of government. In my judgment, this whole movement arises from a false conception of the duty and of the right of both men and women.

The time will never come when the line of demarcation between the functions of the two sexes will be broken down. I believe it to be false philosophy; I believe that it is an attempt to turn backward upon the line of social development, and that if the step ever be taken, we go centuries backward on the march towards a higher, a nobler and a purer civilization, which must be found not in the confusion, but in the higher differentiation of the sexes."

On "Back to the Soil With Wall Street"

When Wall Street wants good business men she usually goes back to the soil to get them. That financial thoroughfare is said to be honeycombed with men who have plowed barefooted, who have drunk brackish water, eaten cornbread and molasses and slept on the floor in their early days. A man is more capable of holding the reins of business who knows how to drive a team of mules, shear a sheep or put a ring in a sheep's nose. A man is better equipped to meet the problems of life who in his youth has walked the log across the creek to get to school, courted the girls at husking bees and pitched horse shoes Saturday afternoon. A man who has spent the moonlight nights of his youth possum hunting, going to protracted meetings and occasionally turning down the community at a spelling match has the right sort of stuff in him to make a good business man. The active officials of most of the large business organizations of America it is said were, with a very few exceptions, raised on the farm, and could swim the creek, pitch hay, chop wood, milk the cows or slop the hogs as easily as they can run world-wide business institutions.

The farmers look to these capable and loyal sons of the soil to assist in the solution of the business problems of agriculture. Wall Street is reputed to be capable of financing everything from a Y. M. C. A. to a war, so why not finance agriculture? It is not sufficient to lend money to a correspondent to lend to a local banker, to lend to a broker to lend to a merchant, to lend to the landlord to lend to a farmer. Such a financial system sounds like the house that Jack built, and is just about as useful. Neither is agriculture complete when money is furnished buyers to "move the crop." What the farmer wants is money to hold the crop. What better security is there than a warehouse receipt for a bale of cotton, a sack of wheat or a barrel of corn and why will such securities not travel by the side of government bonds?

The American farmer is a capable planner. He always has lived and always will live the nation's granary, lumber and warehouse, but he has nothing to say in fixing the price of his products. The problem confronting the farmer of this nation today is marketing and its solution depends upon the farmer organizing for concert of action and the concentration of the financial interests in marketing the crop. Agriculture is the backbone of the nation and the only one that has not a financial system planned by big men.

QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a Glass of Salt if Your Back Hurts or Bladder Troubles You.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become over-worked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headache, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of And Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

And Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

LOVE'S JUNE.

the flesh of a crimson wing,
Against a pearl-flecked turquoise sky,
the golden throat of some feathered thing clear, gay song drifts sweetly by,
tall tree node an emerald head;
The liquid sunshine falls like rain;
garden's heart is a perfume
and I know that it must be June again.
my mind turns back to a winter night still, small room, and the fire's glow
the fantastic web of light, at the pans, the storm tossed snow and whirled in the bitter wind the shrilled defiance to suit the skies,
as, at the fire, the Fates were kind,
the hand and smiled in each other's eyes!

You are less than June to me

WHAT THE PUBLIC NEEDS.

"Life is getting to be too complicated for the use of narcotics," said Dr. H. P. Kramer, the noted surgeon, in a recent address at the Ricketts Research Laboratory, Cincinnati. "The time was when the farmer could drive to town and get tanked up and his friends would put him in the buggy and the sober horse would carry him home. But you can not do that now with automobiles. We know that most of the automobile accidents are after dinners where alcohol has been served, and that not always in excess."

After describing the effects of alcohol as similar to those of chloroform or ether, except for the fact that it works more slowly, he considered its effect upon efficiency in various fields of endeavor, and showed charts proving the lowered working power of composers, bookkeepers and soldiers after they have taken liquor.

"But a friend said to me," remarked Dr. Kramer, continuing the same line of argument, "doctor, you must know that Mr. Blank, the jury lawyer, is more eloquent in his cups, and that the celebrated actor was more impressive when drinking." I asked this man if he would want his chauffeur, his locomotive engineer, his surgeon, to drink. He said he would not. Now the orator and the actor are in vocal pursuits. Alcohol makes them more passionate. But the judge on the bench knows that the lawyer is less capable of keen analysis when in his cups, and the trained dramatic critic will tell you that the drinking actor is not coming up to what he should. These men are like the court jester. The fact is that the higher centers are off the job. The governor is not acting and the engine runs wild. That is all.

"No one nowadays thinks drunkenness is well. What the public needs is instruction about the destructive effect of moderate indulgence."

EMPTY JAILS.

The following testimony to the advantages of prohibition appeared in one of the newspapers of Sussex county, Delaware:

"The county jail at Georgetown is without a prisoner, and Sheriff Jacob West is idle. The turkey is on his vacation, chickens are roosting in the cells and the jail yard will probably be planted in early corn unless another applicant appears. The lone prisoner, Elwood Armstrong, who was afraid to stay by himself, was paroled for two years after having confessed to stealing five dozen eggs."

Further testimony as to the workings of prohibition comes from Kalamazoo, Mich. The Gazette of that city on April 5 contains a paragraph headed, "Kalamazoo Without Crime for 48 Hours—Crimeless Period of City's History Follows Knockout of John Barbeycorn," and the item reads: "Rooms for rent. Apply within. This is the text of a sign which will likely be tacked on the front door of central police station in another week if the period of quiet continues. Not a cell door in the station house has been opened during the last 48 hours. The 'half pen' is as barren and quiet as an abandoned country church. There has not been a single drunk arrested since Sunday afternoon. Crime in general appears to be at a standstill."

BOYS AND BREWERIES.

A man was trying to convince another that because of the vested interests involved the people had no right to close the breweries. His friend answered thus: "I have three boys by the time I graduate them from college they will have cost me about ten thousand dollars apiece. Every interest of the brewery and everything that the brewery stands for is diametrically opposed to and threatens the investment that I have made in my boys. No doubt the brewer has more than thirty thousand invested in his plant, but I am going to safeguard my own interests first. I shall vote dry within ten minutes after the polls open if I can get my ballot by that time."

JOHN BARLEYCORN SENTENCED.

In pronouncing sentence on over one hundred men, including the mayor of Terre Haute, Ind., for conspiracy in election frauds, Judge Anderson of the United States district court passed sentence as well on John Barleycorn. He said: "My notion is that the saloon will have to go. I believe that the time will come when the people will rise up and smash the saloon, at least as we have it now. The evidence in this case showed that the saloons were the center of nearly all the corruption in the election at Terre Haute."

PRINTERS AND WHISKY.

"More printers are harmed by whisky than by all the insanitary shops in the world," President Wright of the Typographical union No. 18 of Chicago, is reported to have recently said. "Every drunk doorman of a saloon

PUBLICITY FOR SCHOOL NEEDS

Frank publicity in securing the cooperation of the community in the work of the schools is urged by W. S. Deffenbaugh, of the U. S. Bureau of Education, in a report on "School Progress in the Smaller Cities," just issued.

"School boards that are managing the schools ably and honestly do not fear to turn on the searchlight," declares Mr. Deffenbaugh. "The sentiment is growing among school boards that the public should know how its money is expended. In the most progressive schools, the board and the superintendent are presenting to the people either in printed reports, in newspaper articles, or by both.

"Some schoolmen, however, object to furnishing the newspapers with school information on the ground that they are thereby advertising themselves. A superintendent who was complaining about lack of interest among the parents in the schools of his city was asked whether he reported the progress of the school through the local papers. He replied that he did not believe in advertising himself.

"In several cities, as Fredonia, Kans., there is an educational bureau of the local paper. In some cities there are daily school notes. On the whole, the public is becoming better informed regarding the schools than it was a few years ago. The tendency is toward greater publicity by means of printed reports and newspaper articles.

"That the schools can work to
